

Western Dakota Technical College Build Dakota Frequently Asked Questions

Why is Build Dakota supporting full-ride scholarships?

Several workforce categories in South Dakota have been identified as high need. This means there is an shortage of skilled employees available to fill the workforce. The Build Dakota Scholarship was created to be a catalyst to solve this problem. By providing full-ride scholarships and creating industry partnerships, Build Dakota can get more skilled employees into the state's workforce. Build Dakota recipients receive a free education, businesses gain employees, and South Dakota grows. We all win!

- Enroll full-time in one of the 19 Build Dakota Scholarship-eligible programs

- Maintain a 2.5 cumulative grade point average
- Complete the program on time
- Diploma programs typically require 1 to 1.5 years
- AAS degree programs require two years
- Live and work full-time in South Dakota, in your field of study, for a minimum of three years following graduation
- Industry partner awardees must also meet any additional commitments to their industry sponsor

How are Build Dakota recipients selected?

Applications are reviewed by WDTC's Scholarship Committee. Applications are "blind" meaning committee members don't see any identifying information about the applicant.

Considerations are given, but not limited to:

- Industry partnerships (Please see the next paragraph)
- Work experience
- High school CTE coursework
- Awards and certifications
- GPA
- Program availability

What is an industry partnership?

Because the Build Dakota Scholarship was created in response to a workforce need in South Dakota, businesses are working closely with the scholarship program at WDTC through our Have Your Pick, Industry Partnership program. This allows WDTC to offer as many scholarships as possible to train skilled professionals for high demand careers. Employers, sponsor students, pay for a portion of the scholarship expenses, and the Build Dakota scholarship pays the balance. Sponsored students agree to work for their sponsor following graduation. This extends the employers' training dollars, and they gain skilled employees.

How do I obtain an industry sponsor?

There are two ways a WDTC applicant can obtain a sponsor. Applicants who are either working for or know of an employer willing to sponsor them can contact the Assistant Director of Scholarships and she will work with the employer to get the required documentation completed. Or can indicate on the Build Dakota Scholarship application that they would like WDTC's industry partners to view their application. Industry partners can then choose whether they would like to interview the applicant for a possible sponsorship.

Note: Applicants do not need an industry sponsor to be awarded a Build Dakota Scholarship. However, sponsored students receive additional consideration during the awards process.

When will I be notified if I have received a Build Dakota Scholarship?

If you are selected for a Build Dakota Scholarship, you will be notified by the Assistant Director of Scholarships with further instructions on how to complete the acceptance process. Most applicants will be notified before June 1.

What expenses does the Build Dakota Scholarship cover?

The Build Dakota Scholarship covers any expenses directly related to program requirements. This includes tuition, fees, books, laptops, uniforms, equipment, and tools. It does not include office supplies e.g., paper, notebooks, pencils, etc. If a recipient wishes to purchase additional or optional equipment, books, or tools, it is at his or her own expense. The Build Dakota Scholarship does not pay for any housing or living expenses.

How do I get the required tools or computer for my program?

Each year the Build Dakota qualified programs submit a tool list to the WDTC bookstore. The bookstore will order the necessary tools, uniforms, and computer prior to the start of the recipients first semester.

What is considered full-time?

Students are considered full-time if they take enough classes to graduate in the allotted time.

If I have already earned credits that prevent me from being full-time for a given semester, can I still receive the scholarship?

Entering a program with credits that apply toward graduation and/or testing out of a required course will not prevent you from receiving and maintaining a Build Dakota Scholarship.

Will Build Dakota pay for test-out fees?

Yes. Any cost for fees associated with testing out of classes will be paid by Build Dakota.

Does the scholarship cover remedial, preparatory coursework, or other classes that are not part of my program?

If remedial or preparatory courses are required prior to the start of a Build Dakota eligible program, they are covered by the scholarship, but the need for these courses must be determined and recommended by WDTTC.

If I'm not planning to start my classes until the spring can I still qualify for the scholarship?

Yes, however, because so many technical programs are cohort-based, spring term starts may not be available.

I've already graduated from a technical college. Do I qualify for this scholarship?

This depends on your individual circumstances. If you currently have a degree in a field that has not been designated as high-need and you wish to get a degree in a high-need area, you may qualify for this scholarship. If you currently have a degree in a high-need field and wish to move to a different high-need field, contact the Assistant Director of Scholarships.

Note: LPN graduates applying for the RN program CAN receive a Build Dakota scholarship if they have an Industry Partner.

Why do I have to apply for financial aid?

Completing the FAFSA is a requirement to qualify for the scholarship. It is beneficial to complete the FAFSA to determine eligibility for grants that can be used for living expenses. The FAFSA should be completed every year you are in school.

If I receive a Pell Grant, how does that affect my Build Dakota Scholarship?

Pell grants do not affect the amount awarded for Build Dakota Scholarships and can be used for living expenses while attending school.

Can I qualify for the scholarship if I am in default on a federal student loan or owe a financial aid overpayment?

This is considered a disqualifying event; feel free to apply once the default has been made current.

Can I receive other financial aid and scholarships if I receive this scholarship?

Yes, however, because there are regulations tied to certain types of funds, it is recommended you contact the Assistant Director of Scholarships for questions.

Why doesn't every program offered at WDTC qualify for the Build Dakota Scholarship?

Each year, the Build Dakota Administrative Board, SD Technical Colleges, and Department of Education work closely with the Department of Labor and Regulation to determine which industries have the highest need for skilled professionals in South Dakota.

Can I transfer my Build Dakota Scholarship to another technical college or university?

No. If a recipient is awarded a Build Dakota Scholarship from WDTC, the scholarship will only be available at WDTC.

How will I know what to do after I graduate?

The Build Dakota administrative staff will visit WDTC to meet with Build Dakota recipients prior to graduation to make sure graduates understand how to comply with the employment requirements. It is the responsibility of the recipient to make sure they attend this meeting.

What type of job is required after graduation?

Recipients must work in the field the Build Dakota Scholarship paid for.

How long do I have to secure a job after graduation?

Recipients who haven't secured an industry sponsor have 6 months after graduation to begin employment. Recipients who are sponsored will work with their sponsor to determine when they begin employment.

How is the three-year employment commitment tracked?

The Build Dakota administrative staff will conduct yearly employment verification with Build Dakota recipients, the SD Department of Labor and Regulation, and the employers of Build Dakota recipients.

Can I be self-employed?

Self-employment will be approved in some circumstances; however, the recipient must be prepared to submit legal documentation of self-employment on a full-time basis.

What if I can't find a job after graduation?

Build Dakota Scholarship programs have been specifically chosen to fill high-need areas in South Dakota and open positions usually exceed the number of applicants. WDTC has a very high placement rate, and most recipients will be employed prior to graduation. Students can work with WDTC's Career Center, the Build Dakota website has a list of industry partners looking to employ skilled recipients, and the Department of Labor offices have remarkable resources for helping job seekers secure employment. A list of local offices can be found here:

<http://dlr.sd.gov/localoffices/default.aspx>.

What if I don't fulfill the three-year work commitment?

The requirements of the work commitment are outlined in the Student Agreement. If the recipient does not complete the terms of the agreement, the scholarship will convert to a loan. If the recipient completes a portion of the work commitment, the loan amount will be pro-rated based on the amount of time worked.

Under what circumstances would the scholarship convert to a loan?

If a recipient does not complete the terms of his or her Build Dakota Student Agreement or their Industry Sponsorship Agreement, it will be converted to a loan and the funds allocated for that recipient will be used to provide a scholarship to a new recipient.

What if I quit school during the first month of enrollment?

Any items paid for by the scholarship will be converted to a loan. This includes any tuition, fees, tools, uniforms, computer, and any other expenses paid for on behalf of the Build Dakota Scholarship. Because all the tools required to complete the program are purchased prior to a recipient's first semester, the recipient will be responsible for re-payment of those items.

What is the interest rate if my scholarship converts to a loan?

Scholarships converted to loans will have a 4% annual interest rate. A copy of the loan

Can I appeal the decision to convert the scholarship to a loan?

All recipients have the right to request an appeal by the Build Dakota Administrative Board. Requests must be submitted within the 10 days following the date the recipient was notified of the decision to convert the scholarship to a loan. Contact the Build Dakota Program Manager for questions regarding an appeal.
