

Program Learning Outcomes Phlebotomy/Laboratory Assistant

WDT Institutional Learning Outcome	Program Learning Outcomes
	Students will be able to:
Critical Thinking	 Apply critical thinking skills in the laboratory field by recognizing specimen integrity in the delivery of patient care and evaluating clinical lab data to correlate with various disease states.
	Students will be able to:
Technical Knowledge and Skills	 Demonstrate technical knowledge and skills by operating laboratory equipment according to standard procedures, assessing quality assurance and adhering to safety practices in the laboratory environment.
	Students will be able to:
Communication	 Demonstrate professional communication skills by relaying lab test information and pursuing effective communication with patients and appropriate healthcare professionals.
	Students will be able to:
Professionalism	 Demonstrate professionalism by exhibiting accountability, displaying professional conduct, model ethical behavior and operate as a vital member of the medical lab team.